Each talk is followed by: Discussion Circles - Where Real Talk Happens

After each Legacy Lessons Talk, we'll shift from stage to circle — small, curated groups designed for candid conversation, shared learning, and peer support. These are not passive panels or forced breakouts. They're powerful conversation circles inspired and pre-assigned by the themes you choose.

Community Breakfast with Discussion Circles

As a community we will gather for one last time filled with meaningful connection, reflection, and shared insight.

Over breakfast, we'll facilitate focused last-chance discussion tables to help you process what you've learned, clarify what's next, and leave with actionable takeaways — and lasting relationships.

Legacy Lessons Framework Workshop

On Friday morning you'll have heard two powerful Legacy Lessons — real, vulnerable stories that captured not just what our leaders have done, but who they are and what they stand for. Now, it's your turn.

In this guided workshop, you'll begin storyboarding your own Legacy Lesson — a personal leadership message shaped by experience, insight, and intention.

We'll walk you through the Legacy framework to help you:

- Identify a defining moment or lesson that shaped your leadership
- Clarify the message you want to leave behind — for your team, your industry, your family, or yourself
- Map out your story arc with clarity and confidence
- Receive peer guidance and optional board feedback

Peer & Board Feedback Sessions

Take advantage of the room. If you've got an idea you want feedback on, use this time to ask fellow leaders for input. Real time advice for maximum impact.

Retreat Closing & Member Feedback

Before we officially wrap the 2025 Retreat, we'll come together for one final group conversation and community vote — a collaborative discussion on our 2026 Retreat location, agenda vision, and how we can continue to evolve and expand our Legacy together.

We'll conclude no later than 10:30 AM, allowing plenty of time for afternoon departures or additional exploration of the local area.

“What draws me to the Legacy Retreat isn't just the content—it's the people. I've spent years looking for a community of smart, driven leaders who show up with heart, not ego. People who listen, challenge, and truly connect with each other. That's the kind of space I want to be in.”
